

Pure AV Company Profile

Leading the way in the design and Installation of integrated audio visual solutions

Pure AV is a leading specialist in the design and implementation of creative audio visual solutions.

We offer a complete service from design and installation through to ongoing maintenance and support. We don't offer 'one size fits all' solutions but work to understand your needs and apply our experience to create new, better and often more cost effective solutions.

Our client list includes leading UK universities, museums and galleries, public sector and blue-chip corporate clients. From small fledgling business to large multi-nationals, we can take care of your audio visual needs.

Its all about you!

We talk to our clients, we actively encourage honest feedback, we are available, we are visible, and most of all we are motivated to ensure that you – the client – are getting the solution you need.

Design, Integration, Installation, Training and Support

Our specialist Account Managers look after the commercial relationship and work closely with our expert (CTS-D qualified) team of System Designers to help you create the best possible solution for your organisation. That means looking not just at the latest technology but also how to make it work in your environment.

Then it is the turn of the programming and installation team. Together with the design team they take complex state-of-the-art equipment and simplify its control enabling everyday use and putting you firmly in charge of the technology.

We provide hand over training to help get you started and 12 months support as standard to make sure that your technical solutions continue running in the same way as when they were first installed.

At Pure AV we have over 10 years experience in designing, building and commissioning audio visual solutions that work first time every time. We are large enough to handle even the most complicated of systems but small enough to care about what you really need. Contact us to find out more.
